

Dinosaur Adaptations

For this next section, look at your dinosaur skull, model, and any other fossils for your dinosaur. Pick one feature of their body. This may be the placement of their eyes, plates, spikes, claws, teeth, horns, frills, size, or anything else you want. Work with a partner to create a hypothesis for what that part of their body could have been used for. Use the space below to write your hypothesis and why you believe this.
